Express Logistics Group Chooses CargoWise edi to Implement ediEnterprise in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND, SYDNEY AUSTRALIA, 7 March, 2008 — CargoWise™ edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, announced today that Express Logistics Group, based in Auckland New Zealand, will install CargoWise edi's award-winning ediEnterprise software solution across its five offices in New Zealand. This will complement the existing installation of ediEnterprise in the five Express Logistics Group offices in Australia.

Brett Wilton, General Manager Sales, CargoWise edi (New Zealand) said: "The solution offered to Express Logistics will vastly increase the visibility of shipments across its clients' supply chain. An export shipment entered at origin will immediately be visible at destination. This, in itself, will provide a major operational improvement to the current disparate systems in place."

Dave Lovegrove, Group Commercial Manager, Express Logistics Group said: "We are looking forward to the operational and reporting benefits of working from a common system across our entire branch network throughout New Zealand and Australia. We have worked closely with CargoWise edi to ensure all existing customer functionality is fully supported and we look forward to providing an enhanced level of service based on the additional features that ediEnterprise offers."
