

CargoWise edi Names Andrea Robinson as Business Development Manager in UK

Milton Keynes, UK, November 10, 2008 — CargoWise® edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, has named Andrea Robinson as its new Business Development Manager-UK. She will be based out of CargoWise edi's Milton Keynes office and will be responsible for the acquisition and development of new business accounts within the UK as she helps to expand the Company's UK customer base.

Ms. Robinson has 21 years of experience in the freight forwarding software industry, providing IT solutions for customers in the areas of product development, product support, sales, marketing and training. Serving predominately UK-based accounts, her knowledge and expertise covers European freight movements, airfreight, warehousing and transport. Prior to joining CargoWise edi, she worked with various freight forwarding companies supporting import and export trailer operations, as well as customs clearance, while servicing loads to and from Europe and Scandinavia. Most recently, Robinson worked with Vixsoft Systems and was responsible for UK sales as well as launching customs and excise software throughout the UK where her IT expertise led to the evolution of manual processing of customer accounts to computerized Direct Trader Input (DTI), covering all community interfaces for ASM, FCP and CNS. More recently, Robinson has worked with clients supporting their SAD-H (Harmonization) requirements for both imports and exports.

"Andrea's experience, drive and enthusiasm will enable CargoWise edi to consolidate its business marketing functions and continue to expand our presence in the key UK market," said Steve Corbet, Vice President Business Development - EMEA for CargoWise edi, in making the announcement. "Her expertise in the sales of freight software systems to small and medium accounts based within the UK and elsewhere will be invaluable to the global business development of CargoWise edi."

"I'm delighted to be working with CargoWise edi," said Robinson. "The Company's worldwide reputation for excellence, expertise and resources were all factors in my decision to join its team. Part of my initial focus will be working toward expanding the presence of CargoWise edi and its flagship product ediEnterprise throughout this important region. I look forward to using my experience and expertise to both increase our customer base, and work closely with existing customers to enhance our current service offerings."
