Milton Keynes, UK, April 7, 2010 — CargoWise®, a globally recognized technology supplier for logistics service providers, is pleased to mark the milestone of its successful five-year partnership with Röhlig Logistics, a leading intercontinental sea and air freight forwarding company headquartered in Bremen, Germany, by doubling its software installations for the company. Following five successful years of working together with implementations in eight countries, CargoWise is scheduled to rollout its ediEnterprise software suite for the company in eight additional countries in 2010 and beyond, including offices in Europe and Asia.

“Röhlig Australia was the first of many countries to implement the ediEnterprise solution from CargoWise,” said Ian Hamon, Chief Operating Officer of Röhlig & Co. Holding GMBH & CO KG. “Since then it has been successfully integrated into many of our offices around the globe.”

Steve Corbet, Vice President Business Development – EMEA, for CargoWise, said: “The past five years have been very rewarding for both partners. Röhlig has helped CargoWise to push the boundaries of technology in logistics software and both companies have benefitted greatly. Röhlig’s global logistics business has evolved dramatically over the past decade and the use of CargoWise’s ediEnterprise software solution, with common SOPs such as warehousing, freight forwarding, purchase order management and accounting functions, has played a huge role in the success of the company.”

“We were pleased to be able to implement another extremely successful ediEnterprise application in our Röhlig UK office in 2009 – it was a great team effort,” added Hamon. “The relationship will witness another eight countries going live with ediEnterprise in 2010 onwards, including new European, Asian, and the sub-continent businesses. ediEnterprise is a key strategy in our business and we look forward to our partnership with CargoWise continuing.”
